

2025 GLOBAL SUMMER SCHOOL IMPRINT TWIN CITIES

From History to Future: Decoding and Reconstruction of Urban Morphogenetic

The project spans two climatic zones, north and south, and takes the two historical and cultural cities of Harbin and Shanghai as its research samples. Through Walking and Mapping, the project explores the historical layers and future possibilities in urban space:

- Historical imprints: morphogenetic in a trans-geographical context
- Contemporary imprints: heritage conservation practices in twin cities
- Future imprints: urban possibilities in the age of innovation
