activity	Urban Landscape and Identity Regeneration. Strategies.
goals	Train student re-designing the sites from their identity.
